

A PRAYER OF SELF-ASSURANCE

by Rev. Christian Sorensen

Freed from myself for this moment, the face of the unknowable is revealed in the heart of my awareness.
Expanded vistas, bestowed by God, liberate me from self-imposed narratives which used to limit my life.
I now surrender myself to the Divine flow just as the river surrenders itself to the sea.

I am awakened from my slumbering state by God-driven tribulations.
Surprisingly, I become aware that it is God Itself shaking my very foundation for me to step into a greater self-knowingness.
I am no longer negligent to the dehumanizing effects that self-doubt brings to life.
Wisely, I dislodge my awareness from the grasp of small-mindedness, to discover the doors to my inner citadel thrown wide open to my true potential as though it were the first day of spring.

Awakened, my inner genius converts the great detractor of fear into a mighty force for good – and my power returns.
No matter what others have said, I know my value and self-worth for I am an expression of God.
The consortium of self-defeating mind chatter is banished forever from residency in my awareness.

I am now de-hypnotized from the infliction of limited belief in the rational realm of thinking.
Self-generated doubt cannot interfere anymore with the ability of the Infinite Presence to neutralize the illusion of the senses, ultimately expressing as me – Magnificently.

Self-assured, I find the inner confidence, the brilliance, and the spiritual audacity to release God's glory as me. Finally unbound of the push and pull of self-doubt, my conscious thinking assuredly swings back to the true seeds of my divine abilities.
No longer paying the toll of tears for what I have missed, I am free at last.
I am the instrument through which the Christ finds entrance into human consciousness.
Confidently, I step into all situations I face with the profound power of the Presence going before me - as me - into all I do.

And so it is.

In Love,
Christian
