

A Prayer for Passion

Impassioned by awareness of the Divine Fire,
I feel a sudden rush of luminous consciousness.
Freed from countless identities of thought which have weighed me down, I am introduced again to the most exquisite states of my being.
Nostalgic for the wide horizons, the cosmic
dimensions unfold new frontiers for my playground.

Romanced by Spirit, my untrained mind
gives way to the opening of my heart.
I find God's radiant eyes looking through me into all my relationships. I am touched by Infinite Love accessing all my thoughts, expanding Itself into all my words and deeds.
Passing through thresholds of former impressions,
I rediscover the omni-dimensional richness offered me,
by simultaneous interaction of multiple perspectives.

Bridging the abyss of these points
with the communion of Loving Truth,
my relationships unveil their shrouded meanings.
The kaleidoscope of life does not fool me
into believing there is separation.
The ultimate unity, behind the diverse expressions of our cosmos, is God.
No longer calcified by old programming
of how to be in relationships, I burst open the door
to ultimate manifestations,
initiating a chain of mystical events.

Grateful to be unfolding with clarified perceptions of my journey's direction, I feel the passion of knowing Divine Power at last.
Realizing there is no room for a false self,
all dense light is freed from within.
In love with this dawning of the universe as me,
I reverently share my true self with all whom I come in contact.

And So It Is!
